Tasting Notes

Our 2007 Grignolino will win you over immediately with its radiant garnet hue and vibrant floral bouquet! The fresh scent of rose petals hints at sweetness; however, the flavors of bright berry edged with orange peel are deliciously dry on the palate.

Wine enthusiasts have shared the Heitz Family's affection for this unique wine since 1961. Grignolino (pronounced green-o-lean-o) is produced with a northern Italian varietal, known in the Piedmont region as the "little strawberry."

Versatile and zesty, Grignolino is often served slightly chilled as a terrific complement for spicy cuisines or lighter meats.
